Boundaries - Historical Notes

The following is a summary of acts which authorized boundary changes for Grundy County.

1. Acts of 1845-46, Chapter 134, which attempted to take land from Warren County and define said land as part of Grundy County was declared unconstitutional and void according to the court in Gotcher v. Burrows, 28 Tenn. 585 on the grounds that the land which Grundy County was attempting to annex was less than twelve miles in some places from Warren County's county seat.
2. Acts of 1849-50, Chapter 79, moved the residence and lands belonging to William Kelton, Wilson S. Kelton, Ely Hanby, and Jacob Wagoner from Grundy County and placed them in Warren County. Section 2 detached the home and farm belonging to William C. Williamson from Grundy County and attached the same to Coffee County. Section 4 transferred all the properties belonging to Elizabeth Tate, wife of James Tate, Peter Counts, and Jacob Wannamaker from Warren County into Grundy County, thence to the line known as the Robert's line. Section 5 merely states that Thomas Johnson is hereby attached to Grundy County but doesn't say from which county he came.
3. Acts of 1851-52, Chapter 262, Section 3, changed the lines between Grundy and Coffee County so as to include the lands of William H. Coulson wholly within Coffee County. Section 8, of the same Act, also transferred out of Grundy and into Coffee County all the lands belonging to William H. Willis, Mary E. Nevell, Pollyanna Nevell, and A. E. Patton, conferring upon all of them all the rights and privileges of other citizens of Coffee County.
4. Acts of 1853-54, Chapter 181, changed the boundary line between Grundy and Marion Counties beginning on the southeast corner of Grundy County, running north eastwardly course to the Carlton Place where John Lockheart now lives and thence to the Northeast line of Grundy County so as to include as much territory now in Grundy County as is intended to be stricken off of Marion County. The County Courts of Grundy and Marion Counties will appoint surveyors and chain carriers to run the said line. Grundy County would pay her surveyor $2.50 per day and the chain carriers $1.00 per day.

Section 3 conferred upon those moved all the rights of citizenship. Section 5 transferred the properties belonging to Mary E. Nevell and Pollexney Nevell from Grundy County into Coffee County.

7. Acts of 1857-58, Chapter 83, Section 3, repealed the 10th Section of an Act passed on March 4, 1858, which was an Act entitled an Act to change the line between the Counties of Grundy, Jefferson, Grainger, Anderson, and Roane.

Anthony, William H. Garritson, W. H. Meadows, E. H. Rives, James Parks, J. W. Walker, J. B. Thoxton and Joseph Brawley. (It seem some names are repeated and some may be misspelled but this is the way they appeared in the Act.) These moves would not be made until after an election indicating a desire to do so.
9. Acts of 1877, Chapter 81 changed the boundary between Coffee and Grundy Counties by including the lands of Ewell Smith in Coffee County.
