Statewide Residential Building Codes: Opt-outs Expire in 2019

In 2009, the Tennessee General Assembly enacted the Tennessee Clean Energy Future Act of 2009 (Public Chapter 529), which revised state law on building codes.

As part of the Act, the legislature amended T.C.A. § 68-120-101, which provides for minimum statewide building construction standards (applicable to one-family and two-family dwellings) in jurisdictions that are not enforcing their own codes. The Act also authorized counties to opt out of having the statewide residential standards apply in their jurisdictions regardless of whether they are enforcing their own codes.

The law allows counties to opt out by a 2/3 vote, but the opt-out is only effective until 180 days after the next local legislative body election occurring after adoption of the resolution (or at an earlier date set out in the resolution). If your county opted out of the statewide standards at any time prior to the last county election on August 2nd, 2018, that opt-out resolution is set to expire January 29, 2019 (unless an earlier date was specified in the resolution).

If you wish to continue to opt out of the residential statewide building codes, you must pass another opt-out resolution by a 2/3 vote and forward that resolution to the state fire marshal’s office prior to the expiration of your current resolution. If you wish to have the statewide residential building codes apply in your county, you can do nothing and let your opt-out resolution expire. If you wish to have the codes apply in your county prior to when your opt-out resolution expires, you can opt-in at any time by a simple majority vote. Remember, all opt-out and opt-in resolutions must be sent to the state fire marshal’s office.

Secure Future Transportation Funding: ADA Compliance by 2019

In 2016, the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) directed the Tennessee Department of Transportation (TDOT) to ensure that counties with 50 or more employees developed and implemented an Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Transition Plan in order to receive transportation funding.

Over the past two years, counties with 50 or more employees have had to:
- Name a qualified person as their ADA Coordinator (December 2016);
- Develop and publish a grievance procedure (December 2016);
- Provide a letter from the mayor outlining the development of a Transition Plan (December 2017);
- Adopt the letter by the county legislative body (December 2017);
- Provide documentation of progress on development of the Transition Plan (September 2018); and
- Return all self-certification forms to TDOT (September 2018).

TDOT is currently in the final phase of implementing this directive from FHWA. By December 2019, counties with 50 or more employees must have their Transition Plan completed prior to FHWA resigning certification for the county to receive transportation funding.

Deliverables returned to TDOT will ensure your county is in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 504. After your deliverables have been submitted, an ADA Transition Plan Form will be received by Deborah Fleming, TDOT Senior Regional Planner, and Margaret Mahler, TDOT ADA Coordinator. Copies of this form must accompany all applications for funding.

For any questions related to ADA requirements, please contact Margaret Mahler at margaret.mahler@tn.gov.
