Tourism Receptionist

Nature of Work

This is responsible clerical and reception work providing information to tourists and residents who access the county's visitor centers. Activities associated with the job include meeting and greeting visitors, providing information about tourist attractions, facilities, hotels, restaurants and other services, selling souvenirs and other materials, and handing out brochures and maps. Additional activities include filling brochure racks, cleaning the visitor's center, receiving and accounting for all funds, maintaining visitation records and maintaining reference files. Incumbents also assist with guided tours when necessary and provide information about local historical sites and other places of interest. Job responsibilities require thorough knowledge of local tourist attractions, services and accommodations, thorough knowledge of the history of the county and location of motels, restaurants, etc., knowledge of the dates and locations of special events and activities and good organizational and interpersonal skills. Job performance is evaluated by the Convention & Visitors Bureau Office Manager through review of the level of assistance provided to visitors, knowledge of local tourist attractions, accommodations, restaurants, etc., awareness of special events and activities, cleanliness and organization of the welcome center, accounting of funds received and interpersonal and organizational skills.
